

Home / Neighborhoods / Hollywood Hills

[Photo: hollywood-hills.jpg]

NEIGHBORHOOD GUIDE · HOLLYWOOD HILLS

Real Estate Agent in Hollywood Hills Who Knows the Views and the Value

The Hollywood Hills are hillside neighborhoods above Hollywood, in the Santa Monica Mountains. Typical median prices run about $1.7 million to $2.4 million, and view estates cost far more. Andrew Liberty helps people buy, sell, and invest here, where views, privacy, and architecture matter as much as price.

Browse Hollywood Hills Homes

Get Your Hollywood Hills Home Value

START HERE

What’s the Move in the Hollywood Hills?

Not all views are priced the same. Pick where to begin.

BUYING

Buying in the Hollywood Hills

Every home in the Hills is different. Andrew helps you find the right one and make a smart offer, view and all.

SEE THE BUYER GUIDE →

SELLING

Selling in the Hollywood Hills

Selling here means showing off the view and the design, not just the square footage. Andrew prices on the view and the lot, not a formula.

SEE THE SELLER GUIDE →

INVESTING

Investing in the Hollywood Hills

Homes with strong views, unique architecture, and good access tend to hold their value. Andrew studies the numbers on each lot before he suggests any investment.

EXPLORE OPPORTUNITIES →

ORIENTATION

Hollywood Hills at a Glance

The short version first. The Hills are a set of canyons and ridges, and each one has its own feel and its own price.

LOCATION

Hillside neighborhoods above Hollywood, in the Santa Monica Mountains, City of Los Angeles.

PRIMARY ZIP	90068. Parts of the Hills also fall in 90046 and 90069.
KEY CORRIDORS	Mulholland Drive, Nichols Canyon Road, Beachwood Drive, Laurel Canyon Boulevard, and Sunset Boulevard at the base.
LOCAL CHARACTER	Winding streets, steep lots, and city views. Each canyon has its own feel.
HOUSING STOCK	Spanish, mid-century, storybook, and modern homes. Condos sit near the base of Runyon and Beachwood Canyons.
BORDERING AREAS	Laurel Canyon, Studio City, West Hollywood, the Sunset Strip, and Griffith Park.

[Photo: hillside homes with a city view]

LIFESTYLE

Living in the Hollywood Hills: What to Know Before You Buy

Your canyon shapes daily life more than square feet do.

- 01 Beachwood Canyon and Hollywoodland

Storybook cottages and stone homes sit near Griffith Park trails. The Hollywood Sign rises above the neighborhood.
- 02 Nichols Canyon

A quiet road with large lots and a spring-fed creek. Mid-century and Spanish homes line the way. Runyon Canyon Park sits on its east side.
- 03 Outpost and Mount Olympus

Outpost Estates and Mount Olympus, a 1960s planned community, offer private streets and city views.
- 04 Bird Streets and Sunset Plaza

The Bird Streets are an ultra-luxury area with new view estates. Sunset Plaza puts dining and shops close by.
- 05 Streets and Getting Around

Streets are steep and narrow, so you drive to nearly everything. Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood Boulevard, and the Cahuenga Pass link you to the rest of the city.
- 06 Nature and Privacy

Expect trails, tall trees, wildlife, and quiet streets, all minutes from Hollywood.

INVENTORY

What Can You Buy in the Hollywood Hills?

Six kinds of homes, from storybook cottages to view estates.

CLASSIC

Spanish and Traditional Homes

Stucco walls, tile roofs, and arched doors on canyon streets.

Check: Plumbing, wiring, and permits for additions.

CHARACTER

Mid-Century and Architectural

Post-and-beam frames, glass walls, and open plans. Nichols Canyon holds many.

Check: Original systems, windows, roof age, and records.

STORYBOOK

Cottages in Beachwood Canyon

Whimsical homes with rolled eaves, turrets, and stone walls.

Check: Foundation, wiring, and small floor plans.

DESIGN-LED

Contemporary and New Builds

Clean lines and big windows, often on view lots.

Check: Build quality, permits, and city hillside rules.

ENTRY POINT

Condos and Older Mid-Rise

1960s and 1970s buildings near the base of Runyon and Beachwood Canyons, about $600,000 to $1.2 million.

Check: HOA dues, reserves, and building age.

UPPER TIER

View Estates and Compounds

Large lots with pools, guest houses, and privacy walls.

Check: Comparable sales, retaining walls, fire access, and insurance.

BUYER GUIDE

Buying a Home in the Hollywood Hills

What to ask about views, roads, and permits before you offer.

Browse Hollywood Hills Homes

Who do the Hollywood Hills suit?

Buyers who want views, privacy, and nature minutes from Hollywood. It fits people who accept steep roads and car trips.

What should buyers look for in the Hollywood Hills?

Look for safe road access, parking, a usable flat yard, and views that will last. Make sure permits match the home.

How much does location within the Hills matter?

A lot. Canyon, street, view, and road width all change the price. Two homes on the same street can differ widely in value based on view, lot, and access.

What should you check before an offer in the Hollywood Hills?

Six items to confirm before you offer:

- Permit history for additions and retaining walls
 - Fire risk and an insurance quote
 - Geology reports, retaining walls, and drainage
 - Road width, parking, and who owns the road
 - View easements and city hillside rules
 - Real comps from the same canyon
-

What do buyers commonly overlook in the Hollywood Hills?

Insurance cost, steep driveways, limits on building size, and views that new houses or trees can block.

SELLER GUIDE

Selling a Home in the Hollywood Hills

Six steps that shape what a view is worth at sale.

01

How Hollywood Hills homes are valued

Andrew starts with sales in your own canyon. Then he adjusts for the view, the lot, the road, and the design.

02

Preparing for market

Do work that pays back. Clear brush, check walls and drainage, and refresh paint and landscaping.

03

Pricing against real comps

Price lands in the band view buyers search. Updated homes with parking move fastest.

04

Positioning and marketing

Buyers pay for the view, the design, and the lifestyle. Professional photos, video, and aerial views show them.

05

Evaluating offers

Price is one term. Compare financing, contingencies, and closing time.

06

Negotiation and closing

Andrew negotiates repairs, geology findings, and escrow terms.

Get a Hollywood Hills Home Valuation

MARKET SNAPSHOT

Hollywood Hills Market Snapshot

Hills numbers swing by month, canyon, and source. Treat them as a guide, and ask Andrew for current sales.

$1.7M to $2.4M

Typical median price

Sources measure the Hills differently, so figures vary.

$600K to $1.2M

Condos and older mid-rise

Found near the base of Runyon and Beachwood Canyons.

50 to 59 days

Average time to sell

Well-positioned homes can sell in 18 to 28 days.

70 homes

Sold in June 2026

Down from 85 in June 2025.

Sources: Redfin, Zillow, and 2026 local guides. Data as of [Month Year]. [Andrew: swap in current MLS figures before publishing.]

LISTINGS

Hollywood Hills Homes for Sale and Recently Sold

View homes for sale now, then recent sales. Open any listing for photos, price, beds, baths, and square footage.

[MLS listing photo]

ACTIVE

[Address]

[Price] · [Beds] Beds · [Baths] Baths · [Sq Ft] SqFt

[MLS listing photo]

SOLD

[Address]

[Price] · [Beds] Beds · [Baths] Baths · [Sq Ft] SqFt

[MLS listing photo]

SOLD

[Address]

[Price] · [Beds] Beds · [Baths] Baths · [Sq Ft] SqFt

Search All Hollywood Hills Homes

EVERYDAY LIFE

Local Places in the Hollywood Hills

Where the Hills eat, hike, and run errands.

FOOD AND DRINK

Dining

Beachwood Village and Sunset Plaza have cafes and restaurants. Hollywood and Sunset Boulevards sit minutes below the hills.

ERRANDS

Everyday Errands

Groceries and daily services sit along the base of the hills, on Sunset, Hollywood, and Franklin.

OUTDOORS

Hiking and Parks

Runyon Canyon Park, Griffith Park, and Lake Hollywood Park offer trails and open space.

ANCHORS

Schools

LAUSD serves the Hills, and private and charter options exist. Confirm the school for each address.

[Andrew: confirm local places before publishing.]

LOCAL EXPERTISE

Meet Your Hollywood Hills Agent

Andrew Ruric Liberty II · CA DRE# 01965696 | Compass California, Inc. · CA DRE# 01991628

I work throughout the Hollywood Hills, where every home is different, from architectural landmarks to hillside view lots. I am a REALTOR®, and I earned the Certified Real Estate Negotiation Expert designation. I started in commercial real estate, so I have a sharp eye for value on any property, luxury or otherwise.

I am hands-on and straightforward. I explain each step in plain words, so you feel confident whether you are buying your first home or investing in a luxury property.

My commercial real estate background helps me weigh value on landmark homes where comparable sales are thin.

[Andrew: confirm and add his Hollywood Hills sales. Homes.com lists 4 Hollywood Hills and 2 Hollywood Hills West sales in the last five years.]

[Photo: andrew-liberty.jpg]

Schedule a Consultation

Meet the Team

PROCESS

How I Work With Hollywood Hills Clients

Six steps from first call to closing, built around the view.

01

Consultation

We talk about your goals, your timing, and what the view means to you.

02

Strategy

I compare sales from your canyon and weigh the view, lot, and access.

03

Search or Pricing

A search of view homes, or a price built on the view and the lot.

04

Negotiation

Certified skill on price, repairs, and geology findings.

05

Closing

Escrow, inspections, and reports handled.

06

Ongoing

Advice on value and improvements long after closing.

CLIENT PROOF

What Hollywood Hills Clients Say

[Andrew: add a client quote about buying in the Hollywood Hills.]

VERIFIED CLIENT

[Andrew: add a client quote about selling a view home.]

VERIFIED CLIENT

[Andrew: add a client quote about a Hollywood Hills purchase or sale.]

VERIFIED CLIENT

View All Testimonials

PERSONAL REVIEW

Know Your Hollywood Hills Home's Value

Automated estimates often get hillside homes wrong. Andrew reviews your property personally, factoring in the view, the lot, and what is actually selling nearby, so you get a number you can trust.

- Free and confidential
- Built on the view, the lot, and nearby sales
- Reviewed personally by Andrew

Get Your Free Hollywood Hills Home Valuation

Property address *

Full name *

Email *

Phone (optional)

I agree to be contacted about my home valuation. Your information is never shared. Message and data rates may apply.

Unlock Your Free Valuation

NEARBY AREAS

How the Hollywood Hills Compare With Nearby Areas

The Hills offer more variety and bigger views. Laurel Canyon and Studio City usually cost less.

Typical price	Median about $1.7M to $2.4M	Character homes $1.2M to $3M+	$1.3M to $4M
Top of the market	Bird Streets and estates, $4M to $20M+	Large compounds above $3M	Larger hillside and new-build homes
Main appeal	Views, privacy, and many different canyons	Privacy and a woodsy feel	A walkable village and flat streets

Prices come from 2026 local market guides and differ by source. [Andrew: confirm with current MLS data.]

LOS ANGELES · 90046

Laurel Canyon

Just over the ridge, with the same quiet, tucked-away feel and even more privacy.

LOS ANGELES · 91604

Studio City

Down the hill and a different pace entirely: walkable, lively, and close to everything.

LOS ANGELES · 91403

Sherman Oaks

A bit further into the Valley, but a market I work often enough to know well.

COMMON QUESTIONS

Hollywood Hills
Real Estate FAQ

Quick answers about views, hillsides, and prices.

What are the Hollywood Hills known for?

The Hollywood Hills are known for city views, winding canyon roads, privacy, and homes that range from cottages to estates.

Where are the Hollywood Hills?

The Hollywood Hills are hillside neighborhoods above Hollywood, in the Santa Monica Mountains. The main ZIP code is 90068. Parts also sit in 90046 and 90069.

How much do homes cost in the Hollywood Hills?

Median prices run about $1.7 million to $2.4 million, depending on the source. Condos start near $600,000. View estates in the Bird Streets reach $20 million and up.

What are the main neighborhoods in the Hollywood Hills?

They include Beachwood Canyon, Hollywoodland, Nichols Canyon, Outpost Estates, Mount Olympus, the Bird Streets, and Laurel Canyon.

Why do Hollywood Hills homes vary so much in price?

Price depends on the view, lot access, privacy, and architectural style. Two homes on the same street can differ widely in value based on these factors alone.

Do I need a specialized agent for hillside properties?

It helps. Hillside homes come with geology reports, access roads, and view easements that a general agent may not handle often. Local experience can prevent costly surprises.

Are Hollywood Hills homes at risk of wildfire?

Some are. Fire risk depends on the street, the brush, and how fire trucks reach the home. Get a fire rating and an insurance quote first.

Can I build an addition on a hillside lot?

Maybe. City hillside rules can limit how large a house can be. Ask for the permit history and check the rules before you plan an addition.

How long does it take to sell a home in the Hollywood Hills?

It varies more than in flatland neighborhoods, since these homes appeal to a smaller buyer pool. Well-priced, well-marketed homes with strong views or architecture tend to move faster.

Who is the best real estate agent in the Hollywood Hills?

Pick an agent with hillside experience and strong negotiation skill. Andrew Liberty is a Certified Real Estate Negotiation Expert, a REALTOR®, RealTrends Verified, and a Los Angeles Magazine Real Estate All-Star.

NEXT STEP

Buying or Selling in the Hollywood Hills?

Start with a conversation about your canyon, your timing, and what the market means for you. Free consultation. No pressure.

Browse Hollywood Hills Homes

Get Your Home Value

Andrew Liberty

12001 Ventura Pl Ste 100, Studio City, CA 91604

(310) 709-0581 · andrew.liberty@compass.com

Open hours

Monday to Sunday, 8:00 AM to 7:00 PM

Licensing

Andrew Ruric Liberty II, CA DRE# 01965696

Compass California, Inc., CA DRE# 01991628