What's the Move in Laurel Canyon?

Every canyon home is its own case. Pick where to begin.

BUYING

Buying in Laurel Canyon

Most canyon homes sit back from the road on private, wooded lots. That makes prices hard to compare. Andrew shows you what a home is really worth before you make an offer.

ORIENTATION

Laurel Canyon at a Glance

The short version first. Laurel Canyon is a narrow canyon that links Sunset Boulevard to Ventura Boulevard. Steep land shapes almost everything about life and housing here.

LOCATION

Hollywood Hills West, City of Los Angeles. The canyon runs from Sunset Boulevard in the south to Ventura Boulevard in Studio City in the north.

|             |                                                                                                                                                                     |
|-------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ZIP CODE    | 90046 for most of the canyon. Some blocks fall in 90069 or 91604, so check each address.                                                                            |
| MAIN ROADS  | Laurel Canyon Boulevard and Mulholland Drive. Side streets include Wonderland Avenue, Kirkwood Drive, Willow Glen Road, Lookout Mountain Avenue, and Mount Olympus. |
| CHARACTER   | Wooded, quiet, and private. Narrow roads wind past old cabins and new modern homes.                                                                                 |
| HOUSING     | Mostly single-family homes, from cabins to mid-century to modern. Apartments are rare.                                                                              |
| PRICE RANGE | Most character homes sell for about $1.2 million to $3 million. Larger compounds cost more.                                                                       |
| SCHOOLS     | LAUSD. Wonderland Avenue Elementary and Gardner Street Elementary serve parts of the canyon. Confirm the school for each address.                                   |
| NEARBY      | Studio City, the Hollywood Hills, West Hollywood, the Sunset Strip, and Mount Olympus.                                                                              |

LIFESTYLE

Living in Laurel Canyon: What to Know Before You Buy

Road, slope, and setting shape daily life here more than square feet do.

- 01

The Boulevard and the Country Store

The Canyon Country Store at 2108 Laurel Canyon Boulevard dates to 1924. Locals treat it as the canyon's town square. Homes near the boulevard are easy to reach. They also hear more traffic.
- 02

Wooded Side Streets

Streets like Wonderland Avenue and Kirkwood Drive climb away from the boulevard. Homes sit among trees and feel private. Roads are narrow, and parking is tight.
- 03

Upper Canyon and the Ridge

Near Mulholland Drive, lots get steeper and views open up. Check road access, slope, and walls before you fall for a view.
- 04

Parks and Nature

Expect tall trees, wildlife, and quiet nights. Laurel Canyon Park, Fryman Canyon, and Wilacre Park offer trails and open space.

05 Commute and Getting Around

Laurel Canyon Boulevard links Sunset and Ventura. Most errands need a car. Plan for slow traffic at rush hour.

06 Music and Creative Roots

The canyon was home to the 1960s and 1970s folk-rock scene. Joni Mitchell, Frank Zappa, and members of the Doors and the Byrds all lived here. Today it still draws buyers who want quiet near Hollywood.

INVENTORY

What Can You Buy in Laurel Canyon?

Six home styles. Each has its own buyers, its own pricing, and its own checks.

MOST COMMON

Cabins and Cottages

Small, woodsy homes on private lots.

Check: Foundation, roof, drainage, and parking.

CHARACTER

Mid-Century Homes

Glass walls, open plans, and indoor-outdoor living. A favorite of design-minded buyers.

Check: Old wiring, single-pane windows, and roof age.

CLASSIC

Spanish Revival and Traditional

Stucco walls, tile roofs, and arched doors.

Check: Plumbing, wiring, and permits for any additions.

DESIGN-LED

Modern and Architectural

New builds and big remodels with clean lines and large windows.

Check: Build quality behind the finish, permits, and slope work.

VIEWS

Hillside View Homes

Steep lots with city or canyon views, often built in steps.

Check: Retaining walls, drainage, geology report, and road access.

UPPER TIER

Estates and Compounds

Large lots with guest houses, gates, and privacy walls. Few sales match them closely.

Check: Road rights, comparable sales, and fire access.

Condos and small apartment buildings are rare in the canyon.

BUYER GUIDE

Buying a Home in Laurel Canyon

Who does Laurel Canyon suit?

Buyers who want privacy, trees, and character close to the city. It fits people who accept a car-based life and winding roads.

Answers to find before you tour or write an offer.

Browse Canyon Homes

What should buyers look for?

Look for safe road access, parking, a usable yard, and permits that match the home. On hillside lots, check walls and drainage.

How much does the road matter?

A lot. Some homes sit on private roads with shared repair costs. Ask who owns the road and who pays for upkeep.

What should you check before you make an offer?

Check these six items first:

- Permit history with the city
- Fire rating and an insurance quote
- Slope, retaining walls, and drainage
- The road agreement, if the road is private
- A lender with canyon experience
- Real comps, including homes that sold and resold

What do buyers often miss?

Guest parking, steep driveways, insurance costs, and unpermitted rooms listed as finished space.

SELLER GUIDE

Selling a Home in Laurel Canyon

Six steps. Each one shapes your final price.

01

How canyon homes are valued

Andrew starts with the closest real sales. Then he adjusts for lot, privacy, views, road, and condition.

02

Preparing for market

Do work that pays back. Clear brush, fix drainage, and refresh paint and landscaping.

03

Pricing against real comps

Few canyon homes match. Andrew uses a wider set of sales and explains each choice.

04

Positioning and marketing

Photos, video, and words that show privacy, setting, and design to the right buyer.

05

Evaluating offers

Price is one term. Check the loan type, appraisal risk, and closing time. Steep lots and private roads can slow an appraisal.

06

Negotiation and closing

Andrew, a Certified Real Estate Negotiation Expert, handles inspection requests, repairs, the appraisal, and escrow.

COMMON QUESTIONS

Laurel Canyon Real Estate FAQ

Direct answers to what buyers and sellers ask most.

What is Laurel Canyon known for?

Laurel Canyon is known for the 1960s and 1970s folk-rock music scene. Today it is known for quiet, wooded streets and private homes.

Where is Laurel Canyon?

Laurel Canyon is a hillside neighborhood in Los Angeles. It sits mostly in ZIP code 90046, along Laurel Canyon Boulevard between Sunset and Ventura.

How much do homes cost in Laurel Canyon?

Most character homes sell for about $1.2 million to $3 million. Larger compounds cost more. Public sources show median prices of about $2 million to $3 million.

Are Laurel Canyon homes at risk of wildfire?

Some are. Risk changes by street, plants, and road access. Check the fire rating and get an insurance quote before you buy.

Are Laurel Canyon roads private or public?

Both exist. Some homes sit on private roads with shared repair costs. Ask for the road agreement before you buy.

Is it hard to get a loan for a canyon home?

Sometimes. Steep lots, private roads, and unusual builds can slow an appraisal. Work with a lender who knows canyon homes.

Why are canyon homes hard to price?

Few homes match. Size, lot, privacy, and setting differ from house to house. Real comps and local knowledge matter most.

What schools serve Laurel Canyon?

The Los Angeles Unified School District serves the canyon. Wonderland Avenue Elementary and Gardner Street Elementary serve parts of it. Confirm the school for each address.

Is Laurel Canyon a good place to invest?

It can be. Few homes come up for sale, and each one is different. Check rents, repair costs, and comps on every property.

How is buying here different from Studio City or the Hollywood Hills?

Laurel Canyon favors privacy and a woodsy feel. Studio City offers a walkable village. The Hollywood Hills often offer bigger views and higher prices.
